CALL FOR PAPERS

SPECIAL ISSUE:

Empowering Entrepreneurship and Employability in the Modern Economy

We are delighted to provide ICEEE'24 authors and participants with the opportunity to submit to a special issue of the International Journal of Entrepreneurship & Innovation (SCOPUS indexed, Q1) focused on "Empowering Entrepreneurship and Employability in the Modern Economy."

This special issue aims to extend the discussions and insights presented at ICEEE'24 by welcoming contributions that delve deeper into the theme and offer valuable insights for researchers, practitioners, and policymakers.

Entrepreneurial strategies for job creation and economic growth, enhancing employability.

Technological influences on entrepreneurship, shaping ventures and influencing employability.

Empowerment of women in entrepreneurship, contributing to increased employability.

The role of social entrepreneurship in driving positive change and fostering sustainable employability.

Entrepreneurial finance, encompassing management, accounting, risk, and resource allocation for new ventures.

Quality management practices within entrepreneurial ventures for operational excellence.

Entrepreneurial optimization of supply chains, fostering resilience, collaborative success, and integrating sustainability with a consequential impact on employability.
